Get settled in and enjoy lunch by the pool, watching herds of wildlife grazing nearby. In the afternoon, you'll meet your horses and try your hand at polo with one of the instructors, learning some of the basics of stick and ball. Alternatively, if you time your visit right, you can catch one of the regular polo matches in the late afternoon/early evening (normally on Wednesdays, Saturdays, and Sundays).

An optional extra is a scenic helicopter ride over Mount Meru (at an additional cost). As evening falls, gather for cocktails at the polo club before returning to the residence in time for dinner.

Day 2 : Transfer to Lolkisale Ranch, Afternoon Ride on the Plains

Early today, the horses will be trailered to the Lolkisale Ranch to the east of Tarangire National Park, where you will ride over the next couple of days. Enjoy a leisurely breakfast at the Giraffe Residence, then depart for the ranch in style in vintage Series 1 Land Rovers with your guides. Once you leave Arusha, you'll be driving off-road and journeying south for around three to four hours through rural Maasai land until you reach camp.

Arrive in time for lunch and spend time relaxing before going on an afternoon ride. Explore the open plains, home to a variety of wildlife including zebra, giraffe, lesser kudu, and gerenuk. Predators are rarely seen but do cross through the area occasionally, so you need to be a competent and confident enough rider to follow your riding guide's instructions.
