You'll land at Kilimanjaro International Airport today. After clearing immigration and collecting your luggage, your driver will meet you in arrivals and transfer you to your accommodation in Arusha. Given its proximity to some of the best national parks in Tanzania as well as Mount Kilimanjaro, most people visiting this city are here to start an adventure. After a long travel day you may want to relax, but if you're interested in seeing more of a city that's buzzing with excitement we can arrange a city tour or other experiences for you. Dinner and Overnight at Arusha Coffee lodge.

You will have a private guide and vehicle until you fly to the Serengeti later in your trip, and after an early breakfast this morning you'll meet your guide. You will set off for Tarangire National Park, often a favorite park among guides due to its size and remoteness, particularly in the southern section. The park is known for the large numbers of elephant that congregate here. There are substantial populations of wildebeest, zebra, impala, giraffe, eland and buffalo as well, and even a few localised and unusual species including the gerenuk and fringe-eared oryx. The primary landscape is dry, open woodland scattered with hundreds of Africa's prehistoric 'Trees of Life', the baobab tree. You'll explore the park in your private vehicle, stopping for a picnic lunch during your game drive, and eventually head to your camp for the evening. Dinner and overnight at Elewana Tarangire Treetops.

Many visitors game drive around the northern section before continuing on their way because going deeper into the park means two extra hours of driving each way. When you stay in Tarangire for a few nights, you'll have the early mornings when the wildlife is most active to yourself. You can also take part in walking safaris and night safaris, which are often not possible in national parks but are in Tarangire. Dinner and Overnight
